If a player under the age of 18 qualifies for PGA TOUR Americas, the player would not become eligible for PGA TOUR Americas membership until their 18th birthday.

In accordance with PGA TOUR University Regulations, all collegiate players will be ineligible for PGA TOUR University (in the current season and subsequent seasons) if such player competes in a Qualifying Tournament for PGA TOUR or PGA TOUR Americas.

The online application process will be available beginning Tuesday, March 18th at 12:00 PM (EST) for all member, and nonmember applicants. Only online entries will be accepted.

The entry deadline is Friday, April 18th at 5:00 PM (EST). After the entry deadline, PGA TOUR Americas will accept applications based on availability.

Applications may be submitted for the period as indicated by the entry availability and deadlines noted here.

Note: Incomplete applications, or those not completed through the online application platform, will not be accepted. The entry fee must be paid in full in order for an application to be completed.

Notification of site assignments will be determined no later than Wednesday, April 23rd and be accompanied by additional site-specific information.

Format

A 72-hole stroke play competition with the low 25 qualifiers and any player tied for 25th place earning eligibility status for the 2025 North American swing of the PGA TOUR Americas season. Finishers 1-9 of each site will be exempt for the entire 2025 North American swing of the PGA TOUR Americas season and not subject to any reshuffle(s). In the event of a tie for 9th position, there will be a hole-by-hole playoff immediately following play.

Finishers 10-25 and any player tied for 25th place will receive conditional status to the 2025 North American swing of the PGA TOUR Americas season. Finishers 10-25 will be subject to the reshuffles which will occur after the completion of the 4th and 7th events of the North American swing of the season. See below for additional information

Field Size & Site Assignment

The field size at each site will be approximately 132 players. All 2025 members of PGA TOUR Americas and Korn Ferry Tour, and the top 150 players (in the event that a site is full of members, players will be prioritized in order of their PGA TOUR U rankings) on the PGA TOUR University rankings (as of March 18th, 2025) will receive priority in site assignment by order of the time and date stamped on their completed application prior to the above deadline. Non-Members will be assigned by date and time received of their completed application and are subject to the same entry period. The PGA TOUR Americas reserves the right to balance the field size at qualifying sites by assigning any applicant, including members of the aforementioned tours whose applications are received prior to the entry deadline, to other sites as deemed necessary.

PGA TOUR Americas reserves the right to increase the starting field size of any site, determined by the Chief Referee, in his discretion.

Alternates

Should each of the sites/fields reach the maximum number of players, additional applicants will be assigned as an alternate to their highest-ranked (i.e., first) site preference. Similar to site assignments, alternates will be assigned by date and time received on the completed application. PGA TOUR Americas reserves the right to balance the field size at qualifying sites by assigning any alternate to another site as deemed necessary, regardless of preference. An alternate list will only be applicable if all sites reach maximum field sizes.

Each site may, depending on the number of entries received, have its own alternate list. Once a site has exhausted its alternate list, the next highest-assigned alternate at the next qualifying site will be eligible for any available playing opportunity. The 'next qualifying site' is deemed to be either the next qualifying site to be played after the one in question, or the first qualifying site in the schedule if no qualifying tournaments have been contested at that time.

If and when a spot becomes available at any of the sites, it will be offered to the next alternate, either from that site or the next highest-assigned alternate at the next qualifying site. If an alternate chooses not to accept a spot, he will retain his spot on the alternates list and the next- available alternate will be contacted and so on, until the spot is filled. Any alternate withdrawing from a qualifying competition site alternate list will receive a full refund at the time of their withdrawal or once that qualifying site has been contested. If an alternate is not offered a spot (i.e., due to an insufficient number of withdrawals) they would also receive a full refund.

Note: Alternates wishing to wait on-site at qualifying competition location may do so at their discretion. If, beginning during the official practice round/registration date (i.e., the date preceding the first round of official competition) through the last starting time of the first round of the competition, a player withdraws or does not show for his starting time, an on-site alternate will be eligible to compete. The procedure for using alternates in this manner will use the ranking for alternates as outlined below, but only apply to those on-site.

Site assignments, once distributed, are considered final.

Starting times will be available two days preceding the Qualifying competition at the qualifying site or online at www.qualifying.pgatourhq.com
